

A Galician wins the title of Best Ham Cutter in Spain

Jorge Díaz Borreguero from Santiago de Compostela has been named the winner of the 27th annual Ham Cutting Competition / Dehesa de Extremadura.

Second and third place went to Sergio Escudero from Almería and Giovani Almansa from Las Palmas, respectively.

Since its inception, the contest has been one of the Salón Gourmets' most-visited events. It showcases skill and ability when carving a leg of ham, taking into account slice thickness, size, cutting speed and dish presentation, criteria on the basis of which the jury awards the prize to the Best Ham Cutter in Spain, Dehesa de Extremadura Ham Cutting Contest.

The jury was made up of the following members: Elena Diéguez, President of the Regulatory Council of D.O. Dehesa de Extremadura; Juan Francisco Hernández, Ham Cutter at Urrechú; Alberto Luchini, editor-in-chief of Metròpoli; Andrea Tumbarello, Owner of Don Giovanni; Pedro Larumbre, Larumbre Group; Jorge López Marco "Tote", Spanish football player; and Francisco Javier Morato, businessman and member of the DOP Dehesa de Extremadura Regulatory Council.
